Wal-Mart Foundation Presents $100,000 Donation to the Rotary Club of Springfield North

Donation to fund construction of community ballpark

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. - Wal-Mart Foundation today announced a $100,000 donation to the Rotary Club of Springfield North at a Wal-Mart Supercenter in Springfield. The donation will be used to build a baseball/softball field for disabled children and young adults.

“The Wal-Mart foundation is dedicated to making a positive impact on the communities we serve,” said Skip Tinney, market manager at Wal-Mart. “We’re excited our contribution will help build a field that serves children and young adults in the Springfield area.”

The Rotary Club of Springfield North, the Community Foundation of the Ozarks and the Springfield Greene County Park Board are partnering to build the field. The new field will be located in the new Dan Kinney Park located on Blackman Road in southeast Springfield. Use of the field will be administered by the Springfield Greene County Park Board.

“The Park Board appreciates Wal-Mart’s commitment to supporting local communities,” said Jodie Adams, Director of Parks with the Springfield Greene County Park Board. “This generous donation will help fulfill a great need in the city. We anticipate the new field will help accommodate several hundred children and young adults.”

Under the guidelines established by the Miracle League Association, the field will have a special playing surface that allows easy access for wheelchairs, individuals using walkers or anyone who finds it difficult to walk due to health issues and/or blindness. Walton Construction of Springfield will manage construction of the field. Construction of the field is scheduled for completion the summer of 2009.
